Mechanical Breakdown Insurance

Your business is built upon the service you offer to your customers and so is ours.

To ensure customer confidence in the vehicles you sell, you need to be providing the very best possible mechanical and electrical breakdown insurance backed up by an experienced claims management team. So when the unexpected breakdown does happen, the problem is solved quickly and efficiently and with no detriment to your reputation. Plus, your happy customers will willingly recommend you to their friends, family and colleagues.

Our mechanical breakdown insurance was built from the ground up working from the perspective of a car driver, not an insurer. The breadth of the products and owner responsibilities are clear, explaining the range of cover on offer and arguably most importantly so is the claim process.
